Call for Sponsorship

VLDB is the premier international conference on database and information system technology, organized every year by the VLDB Endowment (<http://www.vldb.org>), a non-profit organization incorporated in the USA. The 2009 event in Lyon will be organized together with University of Lyon 1, INSA-Lyon and INRIA. VLDB usually draws about 600 participants, many of the renowned and influential decision makers from IT industry and academia. The conference offers a forum for database researchers, developers, and users through a number of scientific and industrial tracks as well as numerous workshops and tutorials. VLDB has traditionally been held in all parts of the world and the next conference will take place at the "Cité internationale" of Lyon in France, August 24 to 28, 2009. We are actively seeking sponsorship for the VLDB 2009 conference and are offering four categories of participation.
